Jiang Daming, Land and Resources Minister

??????????

Property registration system is under a test run. All provincial level regions, 331 prefecture-level cities and 98 percent of counties have finished the unified property registration and integration of related organizations. The rest 2 percent counties are in Southwest China's Tibet autonomous region and are allowed to do such work according to their own condition.

Jiang said that he hopes the unified property registration will be further pushed forward in the grass-roots level and the information system will have a role to play in 2017.

Yin Weimin, minister of human resources and social security

???????????????

Yin said the online guideline for when people of different ages should retire is fake, and the central government will take much slower, gradual steps in extending the retirement age, and will inform the public in advance. The draft plan to gradually defer the retirement age is expected to be released this year, and we will solicit public opinions.

Transport Minister Yang Chuantang

China is going to promote public transportation as the primary way to ease traffic congestion, which is a universal problem, as it is less polluting, and can transport more people, said Yang. Delegates from some provinces proposed to charge more fees for drivers in certain sections of road in busy traffic hours, as a way to divert traffic. As different areas have different conditions, measures to ease congestion need to vary too. We need to stay positive to find the proper solutions.
