

《习近平要求具体的针对性的供方体制改革计划》

President Xi Jinping has urged authorities to formulate targeted and specific plans to deliver supply-side structural reform during the 12th Central Leading Group for Financial and Economic Affairs.

The reform in question is focusing on providing better provisions for high-quality goods and services and lower costs for businesses.

Xi also stressed the importance of extensively researching current economic conditions; how reform tasks should be specified; and a system to designate and track responsibility should be established.

During the meeting, Xi also underlined the importance of environmental protection, saying that cities should invoke a greener agenda, and called for national parks to better protect endangered animals.

