

《Word on the street: The government work report and my life》

During the Two Sessions, CNTV is publishing a series of vox pop videos showing the general public's feelings about current affairs and China's political season. The second episode shows people's thoughts about the Report on the Work of the Government and their hopes for the future.

