

《Turkish public opinion on EU-Turkey deal》

A controversial deal between Turkish and EU leaders to curb the influx of people illegally crossing to Europe has taken effect. Under the deal, migrants arriving in Greece from Turkey will now be turned back. In return, Ankara has extracted a string of political and financial concessions. Yet little has been asked of the Turkish public opinion. CCTV's Natalie Carney takes to the streets in Istanbul to find out.

