

《日本偶像少女被偶像厨刺伤20多刀，只因拒收礼物》

导读:近日日本一名少女偶像富田真由被其一名歌迷刺伤20多刀，起因只为不愿接受礼物。

A Japanese pop star is in a critical condition after being repeatedly stabbed by a fan as she was waiting to perform at a concert venue in Tokyo.

??

Mayu Tomita, 20, received nearly two dozen wounds to her neck and chest.

????????????????20????????????????20???

Police arrested Tomohiro Iwazaki, 27, at the scene. He is reported to have said he was angry because Ms Tomita returned a gift he had sent her.

????????27????????????????????????????????????

The singer had reportedly complained to police about the fan last month.

????????????????????

Japanese media says she contacted police after Mr Iwazaki started posting obsessive comments about her on Twitter and other social media sites.

??

When police arrested him after the attack, he is reported to have told them that he ambushed her at the station and asked her about the gift.

??

"I lost my temper because she didn't clearly answer," he reportedly said.

???“????????????????????”

Ms Tomita had been working as a pop star and actor while completing her college studies.

????????????????????????????????

In 2014, two teenage members of Japanese girl group AKB48 were attacked by a man wielding a saw at one of the band's regular meet-the-fans events.

2014????????AKB48??

He sustained cuts on their hands and heads, reported Kyodo. A male staff member was also cut on his hand. AKB48's manager was reported as saying the two girls' surgery was successful and they would be able to leave the hospital. The incident sparked debate on whether pop idols in Japan have the right to lead normal lives.

??AKB48??
????????????????????

Synthetic pop stars are not an entirely new phenomenon in Japan. Miss Eguchi's debut comes after Hatsune Miku similarly burst onto the pop scene here. Miku also only exists in the virtual world but has been snapped up by Toyota Motor Corp. to promote its vehicles in Japan and, most recently, the United States.

????????????????????????Miku????????????????????????????????Miku??
????????????Miku????????????????????

