

《伦敦数百人裸骑，反对汽车文化》

导读:近日，伦敦举行了一年一度的“世界裸骑日”，数百人脱光衣服在伦敦街道上骑行，以抗议汽车文化，呼吁绿色。

Hundreds of cyclists stripped off and pedalled through the streets of London today as part of an annual protest against car culture.

??

Wearing body paint and trainers - and little else - scores of environmentally-aware riders braved the summer downpours to take part in the London leg of the World Naked Bike Ride.

??

????????????????

Dare to bare: Hundreds of cyclists stripped off to ride through the streets of London in protest against car culture.

????????????????????????????

Festival atmosphere: Participants covered their bodies in brightly-coloured designs - and some even added accessories to their looks.

??

Peddalling in protest: Riders took part in the London leg of the World Naked Bike Ride to raise awareness of cyclists on the roads.

????????????????????????????????????

Green thinking: Hundreds of cyclists took part in the event today, setting off from six different points around the capital.

????????????????????????????????

Nude sight seeing: The routes criss-cross through the streets of London, taking in as many of the landmarks as possible.

????????????????????????????????????