

《China will lower financing costs for small firms》

Premier Li Keqiang said on Tuesday that China will maintain a prudent monetary policy and a proactive fiscal policy. He said the country will further support the real economy, and agricultural sector.

Li added that China will lower fundraising costs for small firms, and lower leverage ratios of non-financial firms.

