

《消失的香港书商被认为在中国“多次”自杀》

导读:最近,很多香港书商因为贩卖不利于国家领导人言论的书籍被捕,引起国际社会轰动。

Lam Wing Kee, 61, was the manager of a well-known bookstore that sold titles critical of the Chinese leadership.

61????????????????????????????????

Mr Lam was one of five booksellers who were imprisoned for months in cases that made international headlines.

????????????????????????????

He believes they were taken by an elite Chinese law enforcement group which targeted authors and booksellers.

????????????????????????????

One of the men, Gui Minhai, is still in custody.

???????-????????

Mr Lam says he contemplated suicide during his imprisonment but could not make any physical attempts because of the structure and design of his cell.

??

"I did consider it, from January to sometime around the Chinese new year," he says.

???“????????????1????????????”

"I was looking for a place up there to hang myself... but there wasn't."

“????????????????????”

He was not physically abused, he says, but endured months of solitary confinement, interrogations and psychological torture.

??

Mr Lam, who was released on Tuesday, told the BBC he thinks the booksellers were held in two different locations, including a secure, secret facility in eastern China.

????????????????BBC????????????????????????????

He says he was abducted while visiting the Chinese city of Shenzhen last October.

????????????????????????

Mr Lam was the owner the Causeway Bay Bookstoer before it was purchased by Mr Gui last year.

????????????????????

After being arrested, he says he was taken, blindfolded, to the eastern city of Ningbo, where he was held until March.

????????????????????????????????????

In March, when three of his colleagues were released and returned to Hong Kong, Mr Lam was transferred to a room in the city of Shaoguan in Guangdong province, where he enjoyed more freedom.

??

Mr Lam says he was released this week on the condition that he would retrieve a hard disk filled with the names of people, mainly mainland Chinese, who had bought books from the Mighty Current publisher.

??

He says he has no intention of handing over the data, and has no regrets about speaking freely about what happened to him.

??

