导读:家里养头狮子已经令人惊叹了，如果这头狮子还能帮忙放羊呢?是不是很酷?俄罗斯一名男子家里有一只不同寻常的“牧羊犬”，它不是一只狗，而是一只小狮子。

A FARMER has raised eyebrows by using a young lioness as a sheep dog to keep his flock on their hooves.

????????????????

Bayrambek Ragimov is using the six-month-old lion to help round up his sheep.

??????????????.????????6??????????????

He says he keeps a close eye on the cub, which he has named Masha, to make sure she doesn't chase the sheep too aggressively.

????????????????????????????????

Mr Ragimov insists that Masha is good for his flock as running away from her helps to build up their muscles and strengthen their immune system.

But he admits that he was worried at first that Masha might revert to type and take a lamb for her supper.

????????????????????????????????

Friends gave Mr Rahgimov the cub as a present and he says he wasn't sure what to do with her at first.

????????????????????????????????

He decided to use her as a "sheep dog" after keeping her in the same barn as his flock and seeing how well they seemed to get along together.

Bayrambek, from Dagestan, Russia, said: "Masha grew up with the sheep and she is on good terms with them so obviously she's not going to harm them."

He added that Masha had never let a sheep get separated from the flock and that her roar and presence kept wolves and rustlers away.

Pictures of the big cat rounding up the sheep have gone viral on social media and local internet forums.
