

《DPRK fires another missile into eastern waters》

The Democratic People's Republic of Korea has once again fired a ballistic missile into waters off its eastern coast.

An official from South Korea's Joint Chiefs of Staff said the missile was launched early this morning. It came after Pyongyang test-fired two medium-range Rodong ballistic missiles and one shorter-range Scud missile last month.

