

《脸书网直播视频显示3人在车里听音乐时被枪击》

导读:3人在直播中被枪击！脸书网称在该平台上保留视频是为了“谴责暴力”

A Facebook Live video on Tuesday showed three men in Norfolk, Virginia, get shot by unknown assailants as they sat in a car and listened to music.

????????????????????????????????3????????????????????????????????

The men, two aged 27 and one 29, remained hospitalized Wednesday. One was in critical condition and two were “doing better,” according to a Norfolk Police statement. Police are investigating but have made no arrests so far.

????????????27????29??“????”????????????????????????????

The video shows the men smoking and reciting song lyrics for more than 5 minutes. Suddenly, more than two dozen gunshots ring out; the camera then falls to the ground but continues recording for more than an hour.

????????????????????????????????20????????????????????????????????

Facebook said it left the graphic video on its site because it meets company standards.

????????????????????????????????

[illegible][illegible]

????????????????????

"?????????????????????"

????????????????????????????T.J.????????????

??

"???"???78??????????"?????????????????????????????????????
??"

A company official told the Washington Post that the video remained on the site to “condemn violence.”

????????????????“?????”?

Facebook has recently faced scrutiny over how it handles sensitive events recorded on its video feature. A technical glitch caused the temporary removal of the Castile video for about an hour, according to Facebook.

??

After Castile's death, Facebook explained what standards it would apply when confronted with "the unique challenges of live video."

????????????????“????????”????????????

