

《不想再做单身汪？赶紧上网找机会》

导读:如今，找到另一半已经成为了社会的一大热点话题。随着网络和智能手机的不断发展，而越来越多的人开始上网寻找约会对象。

A quarter of all first dates are now the result of meeting online, according to a poll.

????????????????????????????

One in three Britons admit they prefer finding potential partners on smartphone apps than in real life.

????????????????????????????

And almost half say they use search engines and social media to find out more about their possible mate – even if they met offline.

????????????????????????????

But once we've found a likely candidate, it seems we become much more low-tech.

????????????????????

The quiz of 1,000 adults by Domino's Pizza found that going for casual drinks is considered the ideal first date.

??????1000????????????????????

The poll found the nation still has a soft spot for cheesy chat up lines, with respondents naming their favourite as 'Hi, I lost my phone number. Can I have yours?'

??

And one in three Brits of all ages admit to having used dating apps like Tinder and Bumble in their quest for love.

????????????????????Tinder?Bumble????????

Of those questioned, 54 per cent said a good opening chat-up line could make or break taking things further.

54%????????????????????

The research also revealed going for a casual drink is the UK's favourite first date, with a comfy sofa, pizza and a film the top choice for those in a relationship.

??