

《Starving seagull gets slice of bread stuck on its beak》

The hungry seagull punched its face right through the slice during a food fight with other gulls on the harbour's edge in Akranes, Iceland, before devouring it in just a few gulps. A seagull's eyes proved too big for its beak, after it got its head stuck on a whole slice of bread. The white slice became impaled on the greedy gull's beak as a group of birds fought over food.
