

《英国厨师小哥挑战世界最辣料理 2分钟他聋了》

A British chef who ate the world's hottest noodles - 4,000 times stronger than Tabasco sauce - went deaf for two minutes.

????????????????——????????????4000?——????????????

Ben Sumadiwiria, 22, from London, found the dish at a tiny back street restaurant in Jakarta, Indonesia. The 'death noodles' have 100 bird's eye chilies crushed together giving it a Scoville rating of 20 million - compared with hot Tabasco which is just 5,000 on the scale.

????22??Ben Sumadiwiria??"????"???100????????????????????????????5000????"????"????????
??20000?

After Ben scoffed the noodles he started sweating, became dizzy, had to soak his head in water and even went deaf for two minutes.

????????????Ben??

The chef said: "This was definitely the hottest thing I've ever eaten. And some locals can even finish a whole plate, which is just crazy.

?????"????????????????"????????????????????????????

"I'm not really partial to spicy food but when somebody throws down a challenge I just can't say no".

"????????????????????????????????????"

"I went temporarily deaf and my mouth was burning for hours afterwards."

"????????????????????????????????????"

Ben, a full-time chef who has Indonesian parents and was visiting family in the area, paid 34 Indonesian Rupees (2p) for the plate of noodles and a fried egg.

Ben????????????????????????????34????????????????

Ben became so hot after eating the noodles he had to take off his shirt and hold his head under water to cool off.

?????Ben????????????????????

The 22-year-old downed half-a-dozen glasses of water, milkshake and ate a cold banana but was still dizzy from the intense heat in his mouth.

??22????6????????????????????