

《Running of the bulls in Pamplona》

Thousands gathered in Pamplona on July 6 for one of Spain's most popular festivals famous for its morning bull runs. The week-long festival of San Fermín where bulls are chased through the city's narrow streets. Each morning, a group of bulls are led through the streets, and then participants run in front of them as they are let loose and herded from the street to the bull ring.

Thousands gathered in Pamplona on July 6 for one of Spain's most popular festivals famous for its morning bull runs. The week-long festival of San Fermín where bulls are chased through the city's narrow streets. Each morning, a group of bulls are led through the streets, and then participants run in front of them as they are let loose and herded from the street to the bull ring.