

《Chengdu viaduct becomes a stunning green corridor》

A viaduct covered with green vegetation in Chengdu, capital of southwest China's Sichuan province, on July 10, 2017. The 28-kilometer-long viaduct, built in 2013, is now carpeted with creeper and has turned into a stunning green corridor.

A viaduct covered with green vegetation in Chengdu, capital of southwest China's Sichuan province, on July 10, 2017. The 28-kilometer-long viaduct, built in 2013, is now carpeted with creeper and has turned into a stunning green corridor.