The duo met Ben after he added them on Facebook on the suggestion of mutual friends.

It's my first time with two girlfriends, and to be honest it's very difficult because it has to be 100 per cent even,' Ben told Woman's Day in July 2014.

Whatever I do for one I have to do for the other, so it's a fine balance. My mates reckon it's a cool problem to have.'

Now, the sisters have announced that they'd 'love' to marry Ben.

We'd love to marry Ben, but as it's not legal, one day we'll have a commitment ceremony instead,' Anna told The Sun.

Ben treats us completely equally. If he kisses Anna, he kisses me right after, and holds both our hands when we're out," said Lucy.

The pair started their own YouTube channel last year and used their videos to explain how they 'feel each other pain and know when each other is sick.'

Anna and Lucy, who recently appeared on US cosmetic surgery TV show 'Botched', are just as strict with their diet and exercise as they are with everything else.

If she does a squat then I need to do a squat and if she walks 10 metres then I have to as well. We need to burn the same calories,' they said.

If she has like two chips then I need to have two chips but they have to be the same size... when our boyfriend cooks us nachos the Doritos have to be the same size chip too.

Before we eat is a bit of a task as our plates need to be identical.'
