

《73岁老母亲状告儿女：只想让儿女常回家看看》

导读:在四川彭州隆丰镇文家村的一块田坝中，73岁老母亲林秀芝状告两儿两女的赡养纠纷案开庭，要求按月给予口粮。同时，还要求儿女们逢年过节要回家。

A public court hearing recently took place in village in rural Sichuan province, observed by nearly all the area's residents.

??

The hearing concerned a 73-year-old women suing her four children for failure to take care of her. For the purpose of spreading legal knowledge, the circuit court decided to hear the case on a piece of open farmland. The event attracted nearly 100 spectators.

At the "court," the woman demanded to live with her eldest son and his family. She asked him to provide her with a place to stay, and to give her 30 kilograms of rice every month. She also wanted him to farm her contracted land. On top of that, she demanded that each of her four children provide her an alimony of 100 yuan per month and visit her on her birthday and festivals.

During the hearing, which lasted over an hour, no consensus was reached. The woman's children agreed to provide money, but were unable to agree on who she would live with. They also disagreed about how to divide their mother's medical expenses. The judge said a ruling will be delivered on the case before the end of the month.

“What impressed me most was that all children have a responsibility to support their elders, no matter if they inherited property from their parents. Married daughters must also be dutiful,” one spectator remarked.
