

《别人家的“快递超市”，体验一站式服务》

导读:近日，南京药科大学首开“快递超市”，实行全校快递统一管理，开启了学校“智慧物流”的新时代。

China's first parcel distribution center on a college campus recently opened in Nanjing, Jiangsu province at China Pharmaceutical University, local media reported. The center collects and stores parcels for students, who can pick up items at their own convenience.

??

All received parcels are stored on shelves in the center. The students can easily find their parcels according to a bar code distributed by the network system that the center operates. After showing their IDs and signing their names, they can take their items.

??

The center has greatly facilitated the delivery of parcels, according to a student. He emphasized the convenience of only going to one spot to fetch parcels, even if they are by different express companies.

??

As the only logistics center on campus, the parcel distribution center deals with more than 3,000 packages every day.

????????????????????3000?????
