《马刺举行邓肯退役仪式 圣城21号传奇永不熄》

导读:19年NBA生涯，5次总冠军，3次总决赛MVP，2次常规赛MVP，15次入选全明星阵容，再见邓肯，感谢那些年我们遇见传奇。

After 19 seasons, five NBA championships and two MVP awards, Tim Duncan’s No. 21 jersey was raised to the rafters of the AT&T Center Sunday night, officially immortalizing "The Big Fundamental" as one of the greatest players in San Antonio Spurshistory.

12?18????·???21?????????AT&T????????“???”??19??????5?NBA????2??????????????????????

The hour-long ceremony — which took place after San Antonio’s 113-100 victory over the New Orleans Pelicans — was hosted by Spurs legend Sean Elliot, and featured speeches from coach Gregg Popovich, who teared up when he said that Duncan is "exactly the same person now as he was when he walked in the door," and Duncan’s long-time teammates Tony Parker and Manu Ginobili.

?????????????113-110????????????????????????????????????·????????????·???????????·??????·????????????????????????“????????????????????????????????”

"To all of you in here, the fans, all of San Antonio — thank you," Duncan said. "The love and support is overwhelming, especially over the last couple weeks.

“????????????????????????????????”??????“??”

" ... I got so much more from you guys. From my teammates, from these guys over here (group of ex-teammates and coaches), than they can explain that they got from me, and I know that."

“??”

The soft-spoken superstar addressed his family, ex-Wake Forest coach and Spurs general manager R.C. Buford before thanking Popovich, who he played under for all 19 of his seasons.

????????????????????????????????R.C.??????????????????19????????????

"Thank you coach Pop, for being more than a coach. For being more like a father to me. Thank you."

??????????????“????????????????????????????”

简答网 —jiandongshicai.cn—