

《除旧迎新辞旧岁 缤纷焰火庆新年》

导读:2017年已经来临，带大家一起来看看世界各地都是如何用绚烂的烟花庆祝新年的

Australia rang in the New Year with a spectacular fireworks display in Sydney, sending rainbow-coloured showers into the night sky and defying the global terror attacks that cast a pall over 2016.

??2016????????????????????

Around 1.5 million people packed Australia's biggest city to watch as the seven tons of midnight fireworks erupted from Sydney Harbour Bridge.

?150??

Two hours later,?Japan ushered in 2017 in style, with thousands packing the streets of Tokyo and releasing balloons into the air in celebration of the new year.

????????????????????2017????????????????????????????????

North Korea, South Korea, Russia, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Singapore and Indonesia?have also now rung in the New Year with street celebrations and fireworks.

??

Tonga and Samoa in the Polynesian Triangle and Kiribati in the Central Pacific were among the first places in the world to see in 2017.

????????????????????2017?????

They entered the New Year at 10am GMT on Saturday, 31 December, celebrating with traditional dancing and flame throwing.

????????????12?31?????10????????????????

Auckland, in New Zealand, followed ringing in the New Year at 11am GMT. Five hundred kilos of fireworks were blasted from the city's Sky Tower.

????????????????11????????500????????

Danish tennis star Caroline Wozniacki, who is in Auckland, tweeted: 'Wishing everyone a happy and healthy New Year from Auckland! Excited to see what 2017 has in store.'

????????????·?????????“????????????2017????????”

The last place on earth to observe 2017 will be remote and uninhabited US islands, including Baker Island and Howland Island.

????????2017????????????????

Sydney's visual feast paid tribute to some of the international musical legends who died this year, including David Bowie and Prince.

????????2016????????????????·???“??”?

Despite the terror fears, revellers in Hong Kong and Taipei lined the city streets to watch firework performances.

????????????????????????????????????

Shoppers in Japan had earlier filled markets to buy tuna and crabs - seen as expensive items for special feasts - for New Year's Day family gatherings.

????????????????????????——????????????——????????