

《清明话哀思，环保缅先人》

导读:清明即将来临，依照中国祭祖习俗，往往要摆放瓜果饭食、烧些车马衣服来追念逝者，但浪费掉的粮食、焚烧纸物却给行进在环保路上的中国带来不利影响。建议返乡祭祖的人们，可以以鲜花这种环保形式缅怀逝者！

A group of university students are taking part in a special campaign aimed at encouraging people to celebrate next Tuesday's Qingming Festival in a suitably environmentally-friendly manner.

??

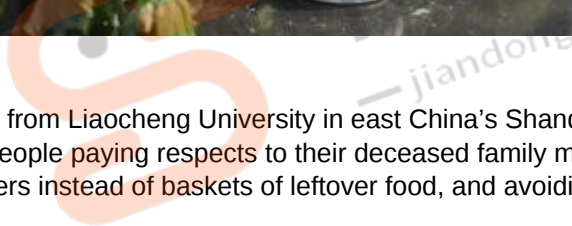

Qingming Day, the Qingming Festival is usually observed on the first day of the solar calendar, and is a time for honoring deceased family relatives. On this day, people visit the burial grounds, cleaning tombstones and leaving large bouquets of flowers. It has been that of burning symbolic money and replicas of material goods, which are believed to be acquired in the afterlife.

Qingming Day, the Qingming Festival is usually observed on the first day of the solar calendar, and is a time for honoring deceased family relatives. On this day, people visit the burial grounds, cleaning tombstones and leaving large bouquets of flowers. It has been that of burning symbolic money and replicas of material goods, which are believed to be acquired in the afterlife.

Qingming Day, the Qingming Festival is usually observed on the first day of the solar calendar, and is a time for honoring deceased family relatives. On this day, people visit the burial grounds, cleaning tombstones and leaving large bouquets of flowers. It has been that of burning symbolic money and replicas of material goods, which are believed to be acquired in the afterlife.

Qingming Day, the Qingming Festival is usually observed on the first day of the solar calendar, and is a time for honoring deceased family relatives. On this day, people visit the burial grounds, cleaning tombstones and leaving large bouquets of flowers. It has been that of burning symbolic money and replicas of material goods, which are believed to be acquired in the afterlife.

from Liaocheng University
people paying respects to
ers instead of baskets of

from Liaocheng University
people paying respects to
ers instead of baskets of

from Liaocheng University
people paying respects to
ers instead of baskets of

from Liaocheng University
people paying respects to
ers instead of baskets of