导读:南京一位老人为了感谢公交车师傅们的辛勤劳动，故意将粽子落在公交车上，这一故事太暖心！

What was thought to be a package left behind by a careless passenger on board a bus turned out to be a heartwarming festive present for Dragon Boat Festival, sent by a local citizen to thank the crew for their hard work.

On Sunday, the first day of the three-day Dragon Boat Festival national holiday, the bus driver in Nanjing, east China's Jiangsu Province, spotted an apparently forgotten package left on the vehicle at the terminal station.

??

Wondering who the parcel belonged to, the driver, Liang Ping, checked the surveillance footage, which showed an elderly man getting on the bus with the cloth bag, before later disembarking empty handed.

??

The driver soon recognized that the parcel was deliberately left by the man, after he found a paper note in the bag, along with dozens of Zongzi, a traditional Chinese snack usually eaten on Dragon Boat Festival.
