

《2018最热流行趋势，竟然是锁骨纹身?》

Collarbone tattoos are the latest high fashion trend to hit the scene, as models strutted down the catwalk embellished with political phrases while debuting the Dior spring/summer 2018 collection.

????????????????????2018????????????????????

Dior's haute couture show, which took place in Paris, drew inspiration from the Surrealist movement, with an emphasis on monochrome colours and optical illusions.

??

Pairing temporary body tattoos with eye-catching masks, which were designed by milliner Stephen Jones, definitely made for a bold statement on the catwalk.

????????·??(Stephen Jones)????????????????????

The lettering that could be seen on the models was written in French and featured a variety of messages.

????????????????????

One of the phrases translated as: "Spectral attitudes", while another said: "In the beginning it is not a matter of understanding but of loving."

????????????"????"????????"????????????"

More tattoos read: "Love is always before you. Love!" and "The imaginary is what tends to become real."

????"????????"?????????

Some models were also decorated with finger tattoos, with one saying: "Freedom of love child."

????????????????????

Many people took to Twitter to express their admiration for the show and the direction of Dior's artistic director Maria Grazia Chiuri.

??(Maria Grazia Chiuri)????????????

One Twitter user wrote: "Yesterday's show from Maria Grazia Chiuri for Dior is an absolute dream.

?????"????????????????????"

"She imagined some of the most beautiful pieces of art I've ever seen."

"????????????????????????????"

Another person complimented Chiuri's willingness to take artistic risks, saying: "Maria Grazia Chiuri subverting almost all the Dior codes with her woke aesthetic." However, some people weren't fond of Chiuri's daring concept

