

《有关摩托罗拉再诉苹果侵权的英文报道》

据彭博社报道，谷歌旗下摩托罗拉公司已在华盛顿向美国国际贸易委员会提起新的专利侵权申诉。

According to Bloomberg, Google's Motorola unit just filed a new patent-infringement lawsuit against Apple with the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) in Washington. According to this report, Motorola's complaint seeks to block Apple from importing the iPhone, iPad, iPod Touch and "various Apple computers." Today's lawsuit is only the latest in a long series of recent disputes between Apple and Motorola/Google, but it marks the first time that Motorola is filing one of these lawsuits since its acquisition by Google became final in February.
