巴基斯坦总统将访问上海

Following the visit to Beijing, Pakistani President Mamnoon Hussain will visit Shanghai. Our reporter Shi Wenjing told us what's on the agenda of the scheduled visit.

Shi Wenjing reports from Shanghai, "Compared with a tight schedule in Beijing, the Pakistani President will have a relaxing tour here in Shanghai, his visit will start late afternoon... in the city's urban and planning center, which opens to the public since 2000.... known as the window of the city..after that he will do some sightseeing activities, including the Tower behind me.... some of the famous attractions nearby ...in the evening, he will meet with leaders of local government..and fly back in the evening...what is worth mentioning is that this year marks the 38th anniversary of sister city of Beijing and Karachi....both government are planning various activities to celebrate the friendship of each other."
