

《伊丽莎白女王被机器人逗乐 露童真笑容》

Everybody knows that futuristic robots are going to take our jobs. Jobs in food service, farm work, and perhaps most importantly, monarchy.

Yes, it's pretty much a given that a robot will replace the Queen of England one day. And earlier today Queen Elizabeth met one of the robots that will put her out of a job. Just look at that cute wave! It thinks it's royalty!

Queen Elizabeth II is currently on an "official visit" to Germany, which mostly involves getting driven around and looking at stuff while nodding politely. Stuff like robots! And frankly I thought the Queen would be a little more terrified. only Angela Merkel's eyes seemed to reveal that she knows full well about the inevitable robot uprising.
