2008年汶川地震救灾物资霉变

????????2008?8????????????????????

Relief materials for the 8-magnitude Wenchuan earthquake in 2008 were found rotten at an office in Xinsheng township in Southwest China's Sichuan province, China Youth Daily reported. The materials, including instant noodles, rice, bottled water and clothes and were distributed to the town after the massive quake on May 12, 2008. Guo Fangping, secretary of Xinsheng township Party branch, was suspended by the local Party committee on April 25.
