

《东航发动机罩破裂英文报道》

东航发动机罩破裂英文报道

??

A China Eastern Airlines flight heading for Shanghai from Sydney was forced to turn back and conduct an emergency landing on Sunday night due to a problem with the plane's engine. All passengers and crew are safe, according to a statement from the airline.

It said the captain immediately decided to turn back to Sydney Airport after the crew noticed there was something wrong with the aircraft's left engine.

The plane, reported to be an Airbus A330, landed without any incident.

