Liu Yanbing and Yi Zhengyong, who protected people on a bus from a knife-wielding assailant in Yichun city, Jiangxi province, will sit for their college entrance examination on Wednesday and Thursday, said Beijing Morning Post on Wednesday.

Though only these two students are taking the exam, the process will run exactly the same as the usual one. The backup question papers will be used and the pair will sit for the exam in the same room as they study different disciplines —one arts and the other science.
