

《Everyday English每日会话：Marriage 婚姻》

Bobby: Do you think I would be a good husband, Kelly?

Kelly: Are you proposing to me?

Bobby: No way! I just want to know if you think I would be a good husband.

Kelly: maybe. But you would have to learn not to be so stubborn, lazy and selfish.

Bobby: Do you think I would be a good father?

Kelly: You will be a great father! I know that you would love your children very much.

Bobby: So my kids would be OK but not my wife?

Kelly: As long as I don't have to marry you, I don't care too much.

Bobby: Maybe you are just blind to true love Kelly?

NEW WORDS????

1) Proposing: asking someone to marry you
????????????

My wife was upset that I did not get down on my knees and propose to her. I sent her an email instead.
????????????????

2) Stubborn: unwilling to be flexible

???????

Stubborn people will stick to their ideas even when you show them how illogical they are.

????????????????????????????????

3) Lazy: disinclined to activity or exertion, not energetic

????????????????????

I know that being a couch potato looks like I am lazy but pushing all of those buttons is actually hard work!

??

4) Selfish: not caring for or thinking about others

????????????????

Being selfish is one the best ways to make enemies - no one likes selfish people.

Dialogue????

Jessie: What would you do if you were in a relationship with someone you didn't love any more?

Tina: One word - Divorce.

Jessie: That takes a lot of courage sometimes though.

Tina: What do you mean by that?

Jessie: Where would you go, what would you do for money? what would happen to the kids?

Tina: Hmmm. I hadn't thought of it like that. Maybe it would be a more difficult decision than I thought.

Jessie: Maybe. Anyway I know a song about a woman who wishes she could leave her man.

Tina: You sing and I'll listen. Maybe I can learn something.
