Bobby: Do you prefer music for your feet or music for your head?

Kelly: I like both but at different times.

Kelly: I like dance music in the morning but songs with nice lyrics at night.

Bobby: We are the same then. I love to put some loud funky music on in the morning as I am getting ready for work.

Kelly: And at night I like to sing along with my favorite love songs.

Bobby: Music really does have the power to alter your moods then?

Kelly: It sure does! Music can make me melancholy or ecstatic!

Bobby: I hope that you listened to music that makes you ecstatic before work and not songs that made you sad.

Kelly: My job makes me sad anyway!

Dialogue????

Tina: Jessie! Have you seen the video for Kylie Minogue's new song?

Jessie: I think so. Why do you ask?

Tina: I am worried that if my boyfriend sees it, he will fall in love with her.

Jessie: Do you trust your boyfriend?

Tina: I do, but he gets infatuations for singers so easily.

Jessie: What is infatuation?

Tina: It's like love at first sight.

Jessie: I think the only person he is infatuated with is you!

Tina: I hope so but just to be sure, I am going to hide the remote control for the TV!
