

《七年级上册英语完形填空专项训练（3）（含答案解析）》

There are all kinds of parents in the world. Dolphin parents (海豚式父母) just want their kids to be ___41___ and healthy. They make sure their kids get enough sleep and exercise. ___42___ parents are strict with their children. They want them to get the best grades in their class. Helicopter parents (直升机式父母) worry too much about their children and “___43___” over them like helicopters.

Sometimes, a certain parenting style can be very popular in a country. In the Netherlands (荷兰), some parents do a strange thing to their children. It's called "dropping". Parents drive ___44___ children into a forest at night and drop them off. The children have to find their way back ___45___ all by themselves.

Does this sound like a terrible idea? Dutch (荷兰的) parents have reasons for doing this. They believe children should learn to work out problems on their own. In the forest, their children need to use GPS to get directions (方向). When they are tired and hungry, they need to find a way out. They also need to know how to get ___46___ if they are lost.

Edward is an 11-year-old ___47___ boy. When he finished his first “dropping”, he told The New York Times that he ___48___ it. He said someday, when he has ___49___, he wants them to do it, too. “It tells me, even in very ___50___ time, to keep walking, to keep going. I have never had to do that before,” he said.
