

《南非大选执政党选票保持领先》

南非大选执政党选票保持领先

南非大选开始，执政党非洲人国民大会保持领先。南非选举委员会统计了约20%的选票后表示非国大选票占55.8%。

The ruling African National Congress is in an early lead as vote counting is underway in South Africa. The country ' s Electoral Commission announced that the ANC had 55.8 percent of the vote after the results from nearly 20 percent of polling stations had been counted.

Women wave as South African president and leader of the African National Congress (ANC), Jacob Zuma, arrives to cast his vote in Ntolwane, rural KwaZulu Natal province, South Africa, Wednesday May, 7, 2014.

Millions of South Africans went to the polls on Wednesday in the country's fifth general election since the end of Apartheid.

The ANC's nearest rival, the Democratic Alliance, held 31 percent of the vote as it looks to make up more ground after polling 16.7 percent nationwide at the last general election in 2009.