??????????????

China has warned that the US charges against Chinese officers could jeopardize military ties between the two countries. At a press conference on Tuesday, Foreign Ministry Spokesman Hong Lei said China could take action if the US did not withdraw its indictment.

"We have never engaged or participated in the so-called cyber-theft for trade secrets. It is the US who has launched cyber surveillance and wire tapping against individuals, companies and institutions of many countries around the world. China is a victim of this." said Hong Lei, "The US deliberately fabricated the so-called facts. We have already expressed our firm opposition and strong dissatisfaction and we have demanded that the US correct its mistakes and withdraw its indictment. We will take further action in accordance with the development of the situation."
