The response to the Tweet was instantaneous - and overwhelmingly negative, both from liberals and conservatives.

Star Trek actor and LGBT campaigner George Takei said, 'once again, Donald, you have shown why you cannot lead us. 50 people are dead, and you bask in congratulations.'

Later Trump released a statement that hit both President Obama and Clinton, saying they should both get out of government if they can’t say ’radical Islamic terrorism.’

??????????????????????????????????“?????????”???????????????”

’In his remarks today, President Obama disgracefully refused to even say the words "Radical Islam." For that reason alone he should step down,’ he said.

?????“????????????????‘?????’????????????????????????”

’If Hillary Clinton, after this attack, still cannot say the two words "Radical Islam" she should get out of this race for the presidency,’ he added.

The alleged gunman was born in New York from parents who were from Afghanistan, though Trump still touted his controversial plans for a ban of all non-American Muslims coming into the United States.

'What has happened in Orlando is just the beginning,' Trump tweeted. 'Our leadership is weak and ineffective. I called it and asked for the ban. Must be tough.'
