中俄军演结束了在中国东海的实兵演练，参与中俄军演的两国海军已于周日上午回到吴淞军事港。

The Chinese and Russian navies have concluded their live-fire drills in the East China Sea. The two navies taking part in the "Joint Sea-2014" drill returned to Wusong military port on Sunday morning.

On Saturday, the Chinese and Russian warships conducted joint anti-submarine exercises. They used real weapons, with eight ships firing main guns, high-speed guns and rocket depth charges. The two navies also conducted a maritime search and rescue exercise.

A total of 14 ships took part in the three-day drills. Commanders of the two navies will hold discussions on the drill on Monday. China's Zhengzhou missile destroyer and Russia's Varyag missile cruiser will be open to citizens in Shanghai for visits on the same day.
