In the video of the Minnesota killing, broadcast on Facebook Live and already viewed more than 1.7 million times, Reynolds says the car was pulled over for a broken tail light. She later says there was also marijuana in the car.

Police said the incident was being investigated and a handgun was recovered at the scene. Castile “was trying to get out his ID and his wallet out of his pocket, and he let the officer know that he had a firearm and he was reaching for his wallet, and the officer just shot him in his arm.” Reynolds says in the video.

For much of the nearly 10-minute video, Reynolds can be heard wailing, off and on camera, as police apparently cast her phone to the side at one point and later handcuffed her, so she could not hold the phone up.

In a poignant moment toward the end of the video, Reynolds's four-year-old daughter can be heard reassuring her deeply distraught mother.

"It's ok, mommy," says the girl sweetly. "It's ok, I'm right here with you."

"?????"?????????"?????????"

Activists said the girl was just four years old.
