

《Taliban militants fire on airport security academy》

Pakistani Taliban militants have attacked a security training facility at Karachi airport, leading to a firefight with security forces. The latest assault came less than two days after 38 people were killed including 10 gunmen, in a previous attack on the same airport in Karachi.

The militants fled the scene after battling security forces for two hours. An army officer said that troops have been sent in to reinforce the security at the academy.

Our correspondent in Islamabad Danial Khan told us the attack has raised security concerns in the country.
