Wearing your heart on your fringe is the newest hairstyle trend

Hairstyle fans know the fringe frames the face, but a new trend is allowing young women to wear their hearts in their bangs instead.

??

The fad has kicked off in South Korea, with young women and girls styling their fringe turning inwards to form upside down heart shapes.

????????????????????????????????

Called hateu aapmuhri - literally 'heart-bangs hair' - it's thought to have been an influence on Kendall Jenner.

Apparently it's not an 'everyday' style, more a viral attempt to have some fun with curling tongs, but these women look great with their fringes styled.

And thanks to the flurry of interest, young Korean men have been taking up the challenge too - with surprisingly effective results.

It remains to be seen if it's something that UK posters will adopt online.
