《真要和中国对着干？川普扬言要增加对台军售损害中国核心利益！》

导读:继和蔡英文直接通电、称呼其为“ 总统 ”之后，川普又表示出要增加对台军售的意向，损害了中国的核心利益。

US President-elect Donald Trump’s tweets about US arms sales after his protocol-breaking phone call with Taiwan’s leader has spurred speculation that Trump may increase arms sales to the island, with Chinese analysts warning that the negative consequences would outweigh any profits.

Analysts also believe that the military gap between the Chinese mainland and Taiwan is too big to be filled by any US arms sales, and selling weapons to Taiwan is still viewed as an offensive political act from the US to interfere in China’s domestic policy.

Taiwan leader Tsai Ing-wen on Friday spoke on the phone with Trump, offering her congratulations on his election victory, the first direct phone call between a US president-elect and a Taiwan leader since mainland and the US established diplomatic ties in 1979.

Trump also called Tsai "the President of Taiwan" in a tweet, adding "interesting how the US sells Taiwan billions of dollars of military equipment but I should not accept a congratulatory call."
