

《Chinese embassy in Turkey issues travel warning》

The Chinese embassy in Turkey has issued a security warning, advising Chinese citizens to be cautious about traveling to Turkey. The warning issued Friday night came after Turkish authorities said there is currently a high risk of terrorist attacks taking place.

Given the grim security situation, it's strongly recommended that Chinese citizens in Turkey should reduce their outdoor activities and avoid crowded places. The embassy also says there has not been any report so far of Chinese casualties during Friday's deadly attack.

