

《烈士纪念日——党和国家领导人向人民英雄敬献花篮》

导读:9月30日是国家设立的烈士纪念日。今天上午，党和国家领导人同各界群众代表一起，在天安门广场向人民英雄敬献花篮。

Chinese President Xi Jinping and other senior leaders attended a ceremony Friday at the Tian'anmen Square in Beijing to honor and remember deceased national heroes on the Martyrs' Day.

??

This year is also the 80th anniversary of the victory of the Long March, a famous military maneuver carried out by the Workers' and Peasants' Red Army of the Communist Party of China from 1934 to 1936.

????????80????????????????????1934??1936????????????

Veterans, family members of martyrs and representatives of all walks of life gathered at the Monument to the People's Heroes at the Tian'anmen Square to mark the country's third Martyrs' Day on the eve of the National Day.

??

The leaders and other participants in the event will present flowers to the people's heroes.

????????????????????

Martyrs, as defined by the government, are "people who sacrificed their lives for national independence and prosperity, as well as the welfare of the people in modern times, or after First Opium War (1840-1842)."

?????????"????????1840-1842?????????????????????????????????????"

It is estimated that China has about 20 million martyrs.

????????2000????

China's legislature approved Sept. 30 as the Martyrs' Day in 2014, to commemorate those who lost their lives fighting for national causes.

2014????????9?30????????????????????????????????????

